Welcome to playingCLIL!

playingCLIL is a European project about content-and-language-integrated learning through methods inspired by drama pedagogy.

playingCLIL brings the benefits of educational games into the CLIL teaching method. It proposes a series of games in which learners are encouraged to act, interact, collaborate and compete using all their senses towards a common goal. Language skills are built and put into practice to reinforce content learning in a variety of fun and challenging activities. The final versions of the games will be designed in such a way as to be easily adaptable to any subject, age group and language level.

These games will be compiled in a handbook (paper version & e-book) which will be presented at the playingCLIL conference.
